

The troll was unkind to The Three Billy Goats Gruff. We will be talking about the way he spoke to the goats and thinking about how he could be more friendly.

The two books we are looking at have different endings. Which ending do you like best and why?

Our Special Words:

Across- to move from one side to the other

Juicy- to be full of juice, succulent.

Brave- when someone is ready to face danger or to be courageous

Small- to be little in size

Literacy

We will be retelling the story of The Three Billy Goats Gruff using props. We will be thinking about using different voices for each character and the troll's repeated refrain. "Who's that trip, trapping over my bridge."

We will be sequencing 4 pictures from the story.

Shhh..... What sounds can you hear inside the classroom and outside.

We are supporting children to recognise their names and they will start to over write them.

Being Physical

The Billy Goats travelled across the bridge to the get to the other side.

We will be building bridges with wooden blocks and using stepping stones to role play the story.

How did the Billy Goat Gruff move across the bridge; tiny tiptoe steps, medium walking steps and large strides. We will be pretending to be the goats using different steps.

Can we find different ways to travel over the balance beams; walk, crawl or pull our bodies across it?

We will be manipulating play dough to create goats, bridges and trolls.

Being Creative

Focus Colours Shades of blue

We will be using a wide range of media to build bridges to test which is strongest for our small world goats to cross over.

We will use different musical instruments to make the sound of the goat's foot steps.

Maths

Focus Shape rectangles and cuboids

Number Focus 1-5

The Three Billy Goats Gruff were different sizes. Who crossed the bridge first, who crossed second and who crossed last.

The Billy Goats Gruff were different sizes; little, middle-sized and big. We will be cutting out the Billy Goats and order them by size.

The World Around Us

Each family is different. We will be looking at family photo cards and talking about similarities and differences. How many people are in your family? The children will draw a picture of their family to put in their learning journeys.
